THE ART GALLERY

"LaSalle College officially opened its new Art Gallery on the lower level of Olney Hall on Sunday, November 9, 1975. The gallery displays a major portion of a study-collection which the college's art department began some ten years ago.

The beginning of the collection was announced on November 14, 1965, at a convocation honoring Lessing J. Rosenwald and Andrew Wyeth. Following an address by John Walker, Director of the National Gallery of Art, the then vice-president for academic affairs, Brother Daniel Burke, F.S.C., Ph.D., indicated that the art department would begin a collection of works of art.

The purposes of the collection are to provide authentic materials for the departments' courses in art history; to become a feature of normal campus life for students who have had only minimal previous experience with art; and to form a bridge to the varied collections of the city's museums. In the decade since then, the collection has grown to some one hundred and fifty paintings and over five hundred prints and drawings."
